

WHAT THE PRESS SAY

MARCH 2007

HORNET
CB600F

"Virtually flawless - £5195 gets you one of the easiest to ride 600s on Earth – and the latest CBR600RR motor."

"I'm really struggling to find fault with the new Hornet. What's certain is that it is easy to ride, fun when the mood takes you, looks superb and should prove reliable. At just over £5000 it's a lot of bike for the money."

"It is fast, well balanced, versatile, easy to get along with and, above all, very entertaining to ride. It does everything it should and more, and looks really quite special.... It is the new king of the class and I'm confident it will be a winner this season."

"I'm adamant that I'd take this new Hornet 600 over Yamaha's FZ6 or Suzuki's GSR600. After racking my brain there's nothing, not one element of either bike, that appeals more than the Hornet's equivalent."

"It's comfy, light and stylish and has an even broader range of appeal than before. Eager learners and expert riders will both find something here to please them no end."

"Midrange torque is key, and the Hornet has a generous helping."

"High-speed stability was flawless and on twistier roads I was impressed by the Hornet's handling.... The generous steering lock allowed effortless slow-speed manoeuvring."
